I would like Mr. Trevor James, Council's Senior Resource Scientist Freshwater & Estuarine Ecology review of freshwater ecology statement to be provided to all parties (email or similar). So far it is just hearsay.

Kia ora koutou,

Per our text exchange, this is advise that the Commisisoner has asked if it's possible for the parties (and in particular the applicant's counsel and witnesses) can accomodate a postponement date to Tuesday 9 May 2023 (in Council Chambers). Working through the applicant's reply and associated evidence (received close of play this Monday), the Commissioner has noted the particular importance of the information and formed a view that to achieve an efficient and effective hearing day, this would be assisted greatly by more time to digest the evidence.

Noting that Zoom is available and any party is encouraged to use it, the Commissioner has asked me to work with you to schedule proceedings to accomodate any witnesses' time constraints on the day.

Thank you for confirming in our text exchange that you will advise me tomorrow (Thursday) morning regarding the above, noting the challenges of demands on your professionals' times.

It's acknowledged that this is an inconvenience to parties (to which I apologise), but reflects the need to balance the timeliness with appropriately testing the evidence (and without recourse to reconvening for more than a single day).

As indicated, while I am out of the office tomorrow (Thursday 27 April) please contact me by text or mobile on 0220619175 in the first instance so I can touch down with my laptop as needed to update and advise all parties as needed.

Ngā mihi
